Crown Land Will Be Re-Opened

Investigation is under way by the government to re-open for homestead entry at an early date the unoccupied crown lands lying to the west of the Carstairs, Didsbury and Olds districts, according to Hon. R. G. Reid, minister of lands and mines.

His statement was made in the legislature in reply to a question by Hugh C. Farthing, Conservative, Calgary.

There is a considerable quantity of land in the areas mentioned which was closed when provincial government regulations were brought down following the taking over from the Dominion of the natural resources.

Many settlers have desired to locate in the areas mentioned as a result of this.

Builders Hardware Store's Big Sale

The Builders Hardware is advertising a big sale to be held Friday March 3rd to Saturday March 18th.

The large stock which has always been carried here has been augmented with the stock from a discontinued store in Saskatchewan.

In checking up the prices on the sale bill we find that they compare more than favorably with mail-order houses and stores in the big centres.

Mr. Spreiter informs us that the stock is all new and that everything in the store will be sold at reduced prices. The great bargains are made possible by quantity-buying.

In some lines there are only limited quantities and it will pay buyers to shop early and make sure of the bargains being offered. The sale will positively end March 18th.

Consolation Finals.

The final games for the consolation event in the mixed bonspiel were played Thursday evening last, when Mrs. Keith's rink was successful over Mrs. Fisher's in a score of 9-8. Mrs. W. G. Evans won third place, and Miss Lucille Smith fourth.

Large Number Of Voters Register

There was a large number of voters registered last week at the special registration for election of mayor and councilors.

Forty-four tenants and 141 relatives registered, and there are now over 400 names on the Voters' List. The list is posted for inspection at the office of the secretary treasurer for the town. The Council will meet Monday evening as a court of revision, to hear any objections and make any revision to the list as may be found necessary.

The nominations for mayor and councilors will be received Tuesday March 14th, and the election held March 21st.

Cattle Breeders Form New Club

Encouraged by the progress made in the raising of Jersey cattle in this province, livestock men who specialize in this breed of cattle, on Saturday completed organization of the Southern Alberta Jersey Cattle Club.

The following were the officers elected: President, Norman Clarke; vice-president, H. C. Wingate; secretary, R. G. May; directors, F. Yerexley and A. L. Longworth.

W. T. Hunter, western fieldman for the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, Victoria, B.C., addressed the meeting. The development of Jersey cattle in Alberta was also outlined by N. S. Clarke, of Didsbury, one of the pioneer raisers of Jerseys in this province.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

"If radio's slim fingers can pluck a melody from the night
And toss it o'er the continent or sea;
If the petal'd white notes of a violin
Can be blown across a mountain or a city's din;
If songs like crimson roses are called
From the thin air,
Why should mortals wonder if God hears prayer?"

LOCAL & GENERAL

We regret to report the illness of Mrs. A. G. Studer. She is at present convalescing in Calgary.

"Immortal" Sabra "of Ginnerton" fame joins the ranks of the stars! Irene Dunn in "Consolation Marriage," at the Open House tonight (Thursday). Also comedies and Pathé News.

The Didsbury Odd Fellows are arranging to hold their annual dance on St. Patrick's Night, March 17th. As usual this dance will have the Irish flavor, with new and oldtime dances to Irish tunes.

The Bushells Girls met at the home of Mrs. Wilson on Tuesday of last week, when the girls went to Mrs. B. Robinson, a popular resident of Didsbury. The consolation was awarded to the hostess. Miss Ruth Liesemer will entertain the girls Tuesday March 17th.

All members and friends of the W.C.T.U. are cordially invited to attend the March meeting, Thursday March 9th at the home of Mrs. Wrigglesworth 3 p.m. The topic will be "Should Fortune Go to Work for the Individual?" and the Program Traffic will be given by Mrs. J. Buggie. This should be of interest to all.

Mrs. W. G. Liesemer was host to the Mons Chapter, I.O.D.E. on Monday evening, when two new members were admitted—Mrs. G. A. Wallace and Miss I. Grant. At the conclusion of the business meeting four tables of bridge sat down to a friendly game. Miss Nellie Wilson carried off the honors. A dairy lunch brought the evening to a delightful close.

A number of the members of the local chapter of the Eastern Star paid a fraternal visit to the North Star Chapter at Calgary on Monday evening and report having had a most enjoyable visit. The members of the Didsbury chapter present were: Mrs. D. Hughes, Mrs. H. Morgan, Mrs. C. H. Aldhead, Mrs. O. Boorman, Mrs. B. Robinson, Mrs. S. Tighe, Mrs. H. Pearson, Mrs. J. A. McRae, Mrs. J. Simms, Mrs. C. Wrighton, and the Misses Alice Pearson, M. Saugstad, and Blanche Bakke.

The annual turkey dinner given by St. Cyprian's W.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Durrer on Thursday evening last. The affair was well attended, nearly seventy persons sitting down to the sumptuous repast, which was thoroughly enjoyed. After dinner Mr. E. K. Pratt acted as toastmaster and several short talks were given. Mrs. Carlton, president of the W.A., thanked Mr. and Mrs. Durrer for their kindness in opening up their home for the occasion. Donations were afterwards indulged in to music provided by Messrs. Charles Rowell and Albert McLaren.

Rare Musical Treat Greatly Appreciated

Outstanding among the rare treats in the musical realm given Didsbury and district was the concert presented by Miss Norma Piper and company Friday evening February 24th. Most everyone had anticipated a real entertainment, as was shown by the capacity-filled hall, but even the highest anticipation was surpassed and the only regret expressed was that the evening had gone all too quickly.

Miss Piper in her opening numbers won the admiration of her audience by her charming personality and her ability in coloratura singing. She was ably assisted by Mr. Richard Seaborn, a marvelous young violinist who had his listeners spell-bound with his wonderful playing, including those most difficult harmonies. Possibly he delighted his hearers most with the simple but beautiful selection, "Mighty Like A Rose."

Miss Piper and Mr. Seaborn were most efficiently accompanied by Mr. Lloyd Roberts.

The enthusiastic applause after the last numbers proved the appreciative response they had gained for themselves. For encores Miss Piper delighted her audience with several selections, among them the delightful old tune, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "Who Have Not Fairies at the Bottom Of Their Garden."

The Masons are to be congratulated in bringing into our midst these talented artists. People even in times of depression are hungry for such splendid musical concerts. We are pleased the evening proved in real success and trust we may have many more similar programmes brought to our midst.

Municipality Elections.

The election for Councillor for Division 3 in the Mountain View constituency developed considerable interest and a large vote was polled. W. J. McCay was re-elected with a vote of 93 to N. Swain 43.

The election in Division 4 of the Beaver Dam municipality very close when W. F. Bates was elected by a majority of one vote over A. T. Williams. The voting stood at: Bates 57, and Williams 56.

In the election of Councillor in the Beaver Dam municipality, Mr. Geo. Hung was returned by 41 votes against 68 for Mr. Wm. Dageforde.

United Church Presbytery.

The Presbytery of Red Deer met at Olds on Thursday last for its autumn meeting. The Rev. A. J. Mitchell presided and there was a good attendance of representatives. Dr. Clarke and Messrs. Chambers, Gibbs and Morton were present from Didsbury.

The work of the church in the presbytery was reviewed and was shown to be in a fair satisfactory condition, having regard to circumstances. Knox United, Didsbury, had done unusually well, showing an increase in membership of 33 and a total remittance of $307 for missionary purposes.

There is an unusual number of prospective changes in the pastoral. Rev. H. Young, Crossfield, A. J. Mitchell, Didsbury, T. E. Armstrong, Olds and T. Sneddon, Nordegg, having made application for change of pastoral relations to take place in June next.

Thanks.

Mr. W. J. McCoy wishes to thank the electors for the interest shown in turning out in such large numbers to vote at the Election for Councillor for the Municipal District of Mountain View. Also for the support they accorded him in returning him as Councillor.

J. W. Phillipson will hold an auction sale for Mr. J. C. Stevens on Saturday March 11th.

Tabulating The Census.

In this machine age, and during a period of unemployment on a scale never before experienced, there is a tendency in some quarters to lay the chief blame for the prevailing unemployment to one factor,—the machine. It is being argued that man through its great inventive genius has succeeded so well that he is putting himself out of work; that the machine is now doing what man himself ought to do. It cannot be denied that the machine has displayed man-power in many directions and ways. But, conversely, it cannot be denied that the machine has developed so many new things and made them accessible to masses of the people who would otherwise be denied them that, in other directions and ways, the machine has created employment for man. Many examples of this might be given.

Aside from this, however, there is another fact that is too often overlooked, and that is, hundreds of things are now being made and done by machinery which would never be done at all if we had to depend upon man-power to do them. They would be economically impossible, and but for the machine, man would simply be denied these things which the machines now do or provide for him. In such instances the machine is not depriving man of employment, but is merely adding to the sum total of the world's goods, services, conveniences, even knowledge.

Let us devote this article to a concrete illustration of this fact, gleaned from a most interesting newspaper article. Can you imagine a machine that counts 240 separate facts at the same time? Can you imagine another that detects man-made mistakes? Yet the inventive genius of a Canadian has evolved such machines which are now at work in the Census Bureau at Ottawa, machines unlike anything in the world. They are not replacing men and women, because as many, or more, persons are employed in the Census Bureau as in former years, but they are making thousands of calculations now possible which otherwise would never be made.

The 1931 census of Canada now being tabulated is the biggest job of its kind ever undertaken in this country. Were it not for the two machines referred to it would cost three times as much as it will to tabulate the information which will be published, and it would, therefore, never be undertaken. In addition, much more information will be compiled than will be published, but it will be available if and when required.

The two machines are the verifier and the tabulator. The first detects errors and the second counts 240 different facts from individual cards at the rate of 245 cards a minute.

The data taken by census enumerators is transferred to small cards by punch holes in each fact recorded. A hole is punched in the previous card to indicate the sex, race, religion, nationality, language, racial origin, and other things of the person being counted. This card is then sent to the certifying machine to check possible errors. The machine throws out cards on which conflicting pieces of information are recorded. For instance, if a person's age is 25 and he is listed by mistake as a non-voter, under 21, the card is thrown into the discard by the machine and sent back for checking to correct the discrepancy.

If a man gives his racial origin as Jewish and his religion as Baptist the card is thrown out and re-checked. If the sex is omitted the card is shot back. The machine, of course, cannot detect a straight error in a single fact, such as the wrong age, or the wrong sex, but it can and does detect all discrepancies in the data.

The tabulator is the only machine in the world which will count 240 separate facts at the same time, and, as already stated, it does it at the rate of 245 cards a minute.

Just as these two unique, almost human, machines do their work, so will the result of a description, intensely interesting as it would be, they were invented by A. E. Thornton, mechanical superintendent of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and were built in Ottawa under his direction and that of his assistant, F. Bellisle. These two men worked for three years on their plan. They had some little difficulty persuading the Government to let them to build the machines as commercial manufacturers scoffed and said they would never work. The machines have been working for 15 months without a hitch.

The next largest machine in the world is at Washington and is used by the U.S. Statistical Bureau. However, it takes only 60 facts at a time, compared with the 240 tabulated by the Canadian machine. The largest commercial machine in the world tabulates only 30 facts and cannot be bought. It can only be rented. Before the next U.S. census is taken, Mr. Thornton's machine will likely be in operation at Washington. Canada is miles ahead of the United States in this respect.

Departmental machines were an application of the theory of mass production to the machine work. What was machine work that enables the government to do much more work to tabulate more rapidly and more accurately than ever before, and without the machines, never would be tabulated.

So much information will be tabulated, that, it is stated, if it were all published the volumes would fill the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa and the printing would require more paper than the entire Canadian annual budget. By careful selection the Bureau will decide what will be published. What will be of greater use to the people of Canada as a whole. But the whole picture will be kept on file in Ottawa. The Bureau of Statistics will be a veritable gold mine for research workers and students of sociology and economics, because all this information, carefully tabulated, will be available to them.

New Tire Guarantee Announced

New Warranty Hoped To Result In More Satisfactory Service

Much of the confusion incidental to tire adjustment claims will be eliminated by a new guarantee announced by all standard-line tire manufacturers. Tire companies believe that no longer will car owners find themselves in dispute with dealers or manufacturers as to the validity of their claims.

The new guarantee, planned to remove all contentious possibilities, warrants tires used in private passenger car service for 9 months or 12 months, depending on the type of tire, and a guarantee certificate accompanies each tire.

All road hazards, excepting punctures and running flat, are covered by the new guarantee, and proof is made by a satisfactory letter or a pro rata adjustment based on the term of the guarantee. It will be seen that, under this new warranty, allowances will be made for such injuries as stone-bruises, cuts, wheels out of line, faulty brakes, etc., not previously covered by tire guarantees. This is a new and definite advantage to the tire user.

Dealers are now selling tires under the new guarantee and motorists are warned that a certificate should be obtained with each new tire. The new guarantee covers, also, tires sold as equipment on new passenger cars to be used in private service.

Leading tire manufacturers believe the new warranty will result in more satisfactory automobile service through the elimination of disputes and the broadened coverage of the warranty.

Canadian Seeds Exchanged

Canadian Wild Flower Seeds For Planting On War Graves In Europe

A report issued by the Division of Botany of the Dominion Experimental Farms Branch shows that the annual exchange list of seeds, collected in the arboretum, comprised some 1,557 species, and a total of 4,862 packets of seeds. 150 seed plants and 11 cuttings were sent out to 110 botanical gardens or other botanical institutions, throughout the world. In turn, 21,171 packets of seeds and 21 cuttings were received from foreign gardens. Special supplies were obtained, as required, for scientific workers in Canada. Twenty-eight packets of seed of Canadian wild flowers were sent to the War Graves Committee for planting on the battle-fields of Europe. Other activities included studies of the life history of noxious weeds, and of chemical methods of eradication.

Only One Answer

Japan's Threat To Leave League Should Be Ignored

There is only one appropriate answer to Japan's threat to leave the League if the resolution censoring her proceedings in Manchuria is not withdrawn; and that is to ignore it entirely. Between a League of Nations which has bought the support of Japan by a supine acquiescence in her violations, and a League of Nations which is temporarily deprived of her support for refusing to do so, there cannot be a moment's hesitation. —London News-Chronicle.

To Improve Wheat Prices

Best and Most Effective Way Is To Reduce Acreage

We led the world in increasing wheat acreage following the disappearance of Russia and the Balkan countries from the ranks of the exporters. There is every reason why should now set the example of reducing acreage. All the world when conferences which could be held, all the legislation which could be sought, would not be so effective in the direction of improving wheat prices as this one step. —Winnipeg Tribune.

CHEST COLDS Best treated externally

2 WAYS at once!

When a cold goes down into the chest, take no chances. Go to bed and start Vicks double-action treatment.

Rub Vicks vigorously over throat and chest and cover with warm flannel. Relief is two-fold:

(1) By stimulation—Through the skin like a plaster Vicks "lets out" tightness and soreness.

(2) By inhalation—Its medicated vapors released by the heat of the body are inhaled direct to the air-passages.

To increase the stimulative effect, redden the skin over throat and chest with hot wet towels before applying Vicks.

Forage Crop Distribution

Policy Inaugurated Last Year Is To Be Continued

The forage crop distribution policy inaugurated last year by the federal minister of agriculture, the Honorable Robert Weir, is to be continued in 1933. This policy was designed to encourage and stimulate the production of seed grasses and clover in order that more feed of good quality may be available for livestock and thus develop permanency in agriculture in the areas where it is possible to do so.

There has been named a provincial committee to handle this work, composed of T. M. Stevenson, agrostologist, forage crop laboratory, Saskatoon, who is responsible for supplying information on varieties, methods of growing and other technical data; S. H. Vigor, field crops commissioner, provincial department of agriculture, Regina, who is responsible for the selection of growers, and will, therefore, receive all applications from farmers wishing to participate in the distribution, and Nelson Young, district inspector, Dominion seed branch, Saskatoon, who will purchase and distribute the seed and also responsible for the collection of same.

Selected lots of bromo, western sweet clover and alfalfa will be distributed. Any farmer may apply for one kind of seed grass or clover, where the maximum acreage is 23 per applicant. In the case of alfalfa, needed for 10 acres can be secured, and consideration may be given an application for alfalfa and another grass. The total acreage should this fall allow, would be 25, that is a grower may get alfalfa for 10 acres and bromo for 15 acres.

Applicants must agree to return pound for pound of seed of equal grade from the first satisfactory seed crop, or pay in cash one-half the actual cost of the seed delivered within two years. The return of seed or payment will be made to the Dominion seed branch.

How Soviet Russia Trades

Demands Cash From Others But Unlimited Credit For Itself

How the barter scheme with Soviet Russia would work out will very likely not be allowed to know, because the Canadian Government is asked to guarantee $4,000,000, but in the case of a real emergency we might as well trust to the Italian Government. Italy, Italy, Italy! which entered port, I mean up in 1924, which entered August, and the Italian Government has apparently had enough of it as notice is expected to be given within the next few weeks to terminate it. Not only has the trade been very one-sided, but while the Soviet demands cash for Italian purchases, it demanded four years and four months credit for itself. Now the Soviet has put forward feeders for longer credit. That might be five years, six years, seven, or how long will you do?

Much as nations want trade, five years or more credit compared with cash "is a bit too thick!"—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Not Enough To Go Round

Farmers Keen On Getting Pure Bred Breeding Stock

Reports received by A. A. MacMillan, Chief of the Sheep and Swine Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, show that Saskatchewan breeders, like hog breeders all over Canada, are particularly keen on getting pure bred breeding stock. All the pure bred sows from the Industrial Farm at Moose Jaw were purchased on the account of the Federal Department for distribution under the Breed Sow policy. And while this looked like a large order to dispose of, demand was so keen for this high quality stock that it literally sold itself, and, as a matter of fact, it has been quite impossible to service the large number of enquiries for pure bred gilts which this sale attracted.

Didsbury High School Wins At Bowden

After winning every game on their own ice for the past three years,
Bowden High School had to bow down to Didsbury High on Friday last, when the latter won a hard fought game 3-2.

The game was fast, with Didsbury holding an edge throughout. The first goal came in the first period from Didsbury. Bruson tallying on Evans' pass, this being the only score in the period.

Bruce scored again in the second stanza from Evans pass, and a few minutes later Cunningham registered Bowden's first.

In the first few minutes of the final period
Bowden pushed hard and McKenzie equalized with a hard shot from inside the blue-line, giving Hobbs no chance to save. McKenzie came back with a hard shot which hit the side of the mouth when he was carried on the ice. Honey donning the pads, followed the accident and Didsbury failed to score a goal for the last 15 minutes of play, during which Didsbury scored again when Evans picked up Bruson's pass and whizzed the puck into the net for the final counter and ending the game 3-2 for Didsbury.

Looks Like Complete Failure*Hopes Of People For Substantial Disarmament Not Realized

The end of the Conference's activities may be complete failure. In any case substantial disarmament is indefinitely postponed, and that at a time when the need for disarmament was never more evident. It is a tragic anti-climax to a Conference which, assembling a year ago after ten years of technical preparation, focused the hopes of all the peoples of the world for the stabilization of peace and relief from the financial burden of armaments. Announces New Field*Director Of Museum Believes He Has Discovered Tower Of Babel

What is believed to be the Ziggurat, or the "Tower of Babel," the ancient city of Akashik, has recently been discovered by Dr. Leroy Waterman, director of the University of Michigan-Cleveland Museum archaeological excavations in Mesopotamia. The mound is a mountain about 50 feet high and 300 by 300 feet in diameter. The outer structure is a circular wall of sun-dried bricks 20 feet thick and 15 to 20 feet high. Above the level of the wall are alternate layers of reeds and earth. The north side of the mound is a solid structure of unburned bricks.

Inscriptions in the mound appear to confirm the early origin of the structure, which dates back to about 1,600 B.C.

The Tower of Babel, according to legend of the Book of Genesis, was built by inhabitants of Babel with the intention of climbing to heaven. They were, however, prevented through their speech being confounded.

A Profitable Occupation*Hollanders Find Valuable Articles*Tourists Lose On Beaches

Combining the beaches is a profitable occupation for thrifty Hollanders. When the tourists all go home from the seas each year they stake out claims and work patiently for weeks. They go over the same patch of sand again and again, allowing for the influence of wind and waves. Some of the "miners" make considerable hauls, consisting of coins, gold and platinum, jewellery and other articles of value.

Archaeologists are to be compensated on the Persian Gulf for the English India line.

Stabilization Of The Pound*Useless For Great Britain To Return To The Gold Standard

It is useless for Great Britain to return to the gold standard "unless and until it shows some reasonable prospect of becoming a stable standard," Reginald McKenna, former chancellor of the exchequer, stated while presiding at the annual meeting of the Midland Bank.

McKenna said the pound sterling had shown "much greater stability than the dollar" since suspension of the gold standard. His pronouncement was the third made recently by the heads of the British banks, and was followed by similar statements by Frederick Crawford, Godolphin, chairman of the Barclays Bank, and Sir Harry Gough, chairman of the National Provincial Bank.

McKenna said the 1932 business level in the United States was considerably below that of 1931, while the level in Britain was practically maintained.

Controlled inflation was widely regarded as the best solution of price problems, McKenna said.

He said that hopes aroused by the Louvois reparations conference "vanished in the face of disappointment regarding war debts to America."

Ancients Had Airplanes*Record Of Flights Given In Abyssinian Sacred Writings

There is reason to believe that someone constructed an airplane which Solomon gave to Queen of Sheba. Of course, there was no motor, possibly it was a glider. The secretary of the Royal Aeronautical Society states that Solomon gave to Queen of Sheba "a vessel wherein one could traverse the world by wind."

There are other references to flight in Abyssinian sacred writings, and there is a long description of the miraculous way in which the Queen of Sheba's son Menelik left Solomon, journeying to his mother's country.

"No man tamed his wagon, and whether it was men, or horses, or mules, or loaded camels, each was raised above the ground to a height of a cubit."

A cubit, according to the ancient Ethiopians, measures about twenty inches, but elsewhere it is recorded that over the Red Sea they were lifted up three cubits, "and everyone travelled in the wagons like an eagle when his body glided above the wind."

Congress has revised the tariff 22 times.

Sixth Sense For Ships*New Safety Device Will Prevent Collision In Fog

Not even a rowing boat can hide in the fog from a new safety device which will guard ships from collision at sea. The device emits an eerie, high-pitched whistle, which echoes so distinctly to the sending boat that its point is said to be able to locate persons in any direction from one-sixth half a mile away.

It is claimed that the device has tooted in fog a small rowing boat with two occupants 800 ft. away. A sailing boat was spotted at 1,350 feet, a steamship was located in thick fog at a distance of 1,360 feet to 2,160 feet.

The apparatus consists of three large megaphones. One sounds the automatic whistle; the other two are "ears." Sounds from either side reach one "ear" a tiny fraction ahead of the other. Sounds dead ahead or astern arrive simultaneously.

Always Floats the Bill*No Call For Funds Ever Appeals British Taxpayer

John Bull is used to paying. He has been paying ever since the war, and has become hardened to standing treat to the nations. The pleasing conviction prevalent abroad that whatever happens John Bull will foot the bill, so sedulously fostered by successive British Governments, is as strong as ever. Even the staggering prospect of handing over colossal sums to the U.S.A., while getting not a penny from our own debtors does not appeal to the British taxpayer. Nothing appeals him any more. He knows from long experience that he is "on it" in any case.—London Truth.

"Consequences?" he repeated. "Consequences for me? I warned you we shouldn't split our party. That was the cause of us failing. I predicted just what happened."

Haskell brushed the words aside. "The consequences of a blundering botched-up patrol such as you led are usually demotion to the ranks. That's what you'll have to take. In an important matter like this I haven't any choice but to make you a constable. Whipple, write out the papers for his demotion.

For moments Alan stared at him. Then he laughed. It was incredible, a travesty. Bustled! Bustled because of this man's orders. Bustled because he had been sent out, tied hand and foot, on a patrol doomed to disaster before it started.

He snapped, "You can quit that searching, Whipple; I'm not a constable yet. And, you, inspector, if you haven't got sense enough to know you're hanging onto your command by a couple of fingers, I'll tell you about it. When Williamson finds out about you ordering me to split my party, hell either ask for your resignation or fan you down to the Border where you belong. You're going to give Dave MacMillan a decent chance and I'm going to make that pat to the Incomps."

Across the desk Haskell surveyed him coldly. "Just a moment, Baker. You said something about my ordering you to split your party. You're blaming me for your failure." He met Alan's eyes without a tremor; he was able to look steadily at Alan as he added: "I didn't order you to split your detail. I may have suggested it, but that patrol was yours, and you're not going to hang the blame on."

"You didn't order me to?"

"That's exactly what I said, sergeant. I gave you no such orders."

Speechless for moments, Alan finally found words. "You're a liar. A sucking liar! You're trying to crawl out."

Haskell jerked around to Whipple. "Make a note of that remark," he said. He turned to Alan again, and in hard tones, with no hesitation or weakness, he said: "You came in here thinking you had some heavy artilery aga'nt me. You meant to get me. Whether I gave orders or merely suggested, isn't the question now, sergeant. The question is: How are you going to prove your charge? Do you happen to possess any documentary evidence, or can you produce any witnesses, that I gave you that order? You can't! Hardstock and Younge were down at the wharf. On the other hand Constable Whipple here was present and heard what you said. So it is the word of two people against yours, and one of them your officer commanding. What do you think of your heavy artillery now?"

He smiled sardonically, in triumph. Alan stood mute, thunderstruck. A moment ago he had thought that Haskell had actually forgotten those crazy orders. But now, with the meaning of those words dawning upon him, he realized that Haskell had deliberately planned this peridy. By a brazen, incredibly brazen lie, he intended to squeeze out of any and all responsibility for the wrecked patrol.

The very effrontry of the denial staggered Alan. In a dazed manner he sought to find a way out of what Haskell had just said. But after a little space it was borne in upon him that Haskell had beaten him; that he no longer held a sword over the inspector; that his own heavy weapon was turned against himself now. Whipple had been here; his own men had been down at the wharf. In sickened despair he felt his situation like the fanged jaws of a trap closing him.

He stood there speechless, staring into the cold taunting eyes of his enemy. Presently he was able to say, truthfully: "I hadn't thought of that, Inspector. I knew you were tricky, but still I thought you were too near being a man for a thing like that. I've been associating with men like Lorry and Bill and Ted for so long

Did he dare forget? . . . Dimly through the creeping mist he saw the candle light of the tiny hospital where Larry, his able silent comrade on many a patrol, lay tossing in pain and fever; where Larry, so strong of body, so proud of his physical powers was facing the black realization that he would never again go out on patrol with other men, and would never again follow a Strong-Woods trail, cutting out from the barracks he could see the massive outlines of the cement cell where Dave MacMillan, helpless to prove his innocence, awaited the full vengeance of the law. He felt a responsibility toward Dave MacMillan, all aside from Dave being Joyce's father. If it had been his duty to arrest MacMillan and bring him in, it was a higher duty now to fight for him, to clear a man whom he knew in his heart to be innocent.

Thinking in harsh practical terms, Alan saw that so long as Haskell had power over him, he could not stir a hand. If he was ever to get these criminals, he had to be free. Several paths lay open to him. One by one he studied and rejected them, till only the last remained.

For minutes he weighed that possible act. Its cost to him was a terrible cost. It would wipe out his brilliant reputation, it would blot his police record. It would kill his last chance of ever bringing Haskell to account. It would uproot him and take him for good and all out of this North country.

Torn by doubt and indecision, he wavered. The price seemed too staggering.

Presently he heard some one come up the terrace and glide past him and go on toward his cabin. The figure was merely a moving blur in the mist, but Alan recognized that light foot step.

He called softly: "Joyce! You wanted to see me?"

"Alan! I've been wondering where you are. Your cabin was all dark and I couldn't find you." In eager hope she asked him: "Alan, what did Haskell say about Dad? He's going to release Dad on bail, as you thought?"

Alan shook his head, sorry for her, sorry for all the heartache that lay ahead of her now. "Joyce, Haskell can be brutal and inhuman. He wouldn't consent even to letting your dad remain here. He intends to send him outside to Elminton."

It was on his lips to add, "Your father is being sacrificed to Haskell's need of a victim." But he could not bring himself to tell Joyce that the news had struck her cruelly enough.

If only she could be near her father, if only she could visit him, the ordeal might be lightened for her. The lonely waiting weeks of suspense would be agony. If her father were a thousand miles away, among strangers, or even to a life a hand for him.

He offered gently: "Joyce, if you want to go along and be near your father, I'll pay. I'll see to it that you can't be held for you, and for him, too, if you want."

Joyce did not answer at once. As he leaned down at her, Alan was struck by the sense of how young and innocent a girl Joyce was; and with bitter self-reproach he remembered those long months of the winter past when he had left her alone to her fate, because Elizabeth, protected, sheltered, kept in her care at Endurance, had demanded it of him. He realized that in her desperate flight she needed his strength and protection far more than Elizabeth did. Except for her Joyce was alone in the world, without friends, relatives, money, and with her father in the shadow of the gallows.

Presently, with the spirited courage he had always loved in her, Joyce answered: "Alan, I'm going back home. The Dogribes are bringing in their furs next week. I'll send several of them to you on that, Alan?"

Get Rid of That SORE THROAT!

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. Use it freely; it does not hurt the heart.

It is possible, when the future is dim still to cling to the conviction of God's merciful purpose towards His creatures, of His parental goodness even in suffering, still to feel the path of duty, though trodden with a heavy heart, leads to peace, still to be true to conscience. Pilot Made Perfect Landing On Ice

With One Skid

Piloting his heavy plane with marvellous skill and daring, Ronald George made an almost perfect landing on one ski on the ice of Chapleau Lake at Chapleau, Ontario. And not until the big plane had bumped to a stop did his seven passengers realize how closely they had come to death.

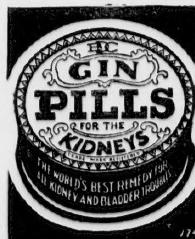

George took off with a party of mining notables for a trip to the Kent Gold Mines property at Swayze Lake. A ski struck a piece of cordwood hidden in the snow and broke just as the machine lifted.

With his ear and hand cut by flying glass, George said nothing to his passengers, but appeared to be continuing on his way. Actually, however, he circled over the town, signaling groundmen to stand by for a forced landing.

More Fish Licenses

During 1931 fish production showed a decrease for every Canadian province except Saskatchewan and the Yukon. On December 29, 1932, there had been an increase of domestic fishing licenses to the extent of 318 over the corresponding period of the previous year. This is an indication that the residents of the provinces are making greater use than hitherto of the fish of our own waters.

Burnside Notes.

Miss Gretna Metz has taken a position at Bergen.

Mr. Jim Tait was a visitor at Mr. Noah Eckel's last Thursday.

Don't forget the dance in Lone Pine Hall this Friday, March 3rd.

Mrs. Mather, who has been visiting at Mr. Albert Spragg's, returned to Albert in Calgary.

Mr. Fred Metz is able to be around again, his usual smiling self, after being laid up with a bad strain in the muscle of his side.

Mr. and Mrs. John Topley drove to Edmonton on Monday with their daughter Elsie, who will go in training at that city for a nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cipperly and family moved last week onto Mr. Lloyd Cipperly's quarter, just south of their old place.

Mr. Peter Gobert was in Calgary General Hospital for several days last week on account of infection in an abscess on his side.

Mrs. Noah Eckel held the lucky number which won her a wool comforter at the "Tombola" at Beiseker on February 8th.

Miss Ella Bitner and Mr. Joe Davidson went to Calgary on Monday. They quietly married there on Tuesday. Children, Mrs. R. Bitner, Mrs. Ed. Anderson and Mr. Gus Bitner accompanied them.

Mountain View Notes

Wedding bells may probably ring 'ere Spring, as they are beginning to tink now—So says Mrs. Grundy.

Pigs are fond of lambs, as one old sow recently ate a bottle-fed lamb. Pigs, too, evidently like milk-fed stock.

A very enjoyable dance was held at Community Hall Friday evening. These dances are becoming very popular. Splendid music was provided by Bellamy's Orchestra and Mr. Max Woods acted as M.C.

At the annual meeting of the Mountain View M.D.s, Mr. Archer was re-elected Councilor for a second term. Many are looking forward to getting pieces of the road fixed, parts of which are much travelled by trucks and on which the jolting is none too pleasant.

Among those who attended the song recital given by Miss Norma Piper, of Calgary, under the auspices of the Masons, were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Tighe, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Barnes, Miss E. Bruce, and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Atkinson. All enjoyed the many favorite selections rendered by Miss Piper and Mr. Richard Seaborn, assisted by Mr. G. Lloyd Roberts, accompanist.

Dear Mr. Editor,

May I express appreciation of the action of the Masonic Order in sponsoring the evening event last Sunday by Miss Norma Piper and Messrs. Richard Seaborn and G. Lloyd Roberts. I must congratulate those responsible for its splendid success. It was a bit of real community work, of the kind much needed in Didsbury, and half-a-dozen such evenings throughout the year would not only give us all much pleasure, but would also have good educational effect.

Is it too much to hope for another such evening in the near future?

Yours sincerely,

Alex J. Mitchell.

Manager Howard Craig, of the Arena Theatre, Olds, announces he has just concluded arrangements for the showing at Olds on March 3rd and 4th, of the season's funniest musical hit, "Jack's the Boy," starring Jack Hulbert, remembered as the "Sunshine Susie" comedian. He is also assisted by Cicely Courtneidge, who, by the way, is Hulbert's wife. "Jack's the Boy" is a roaring comedy with music, and in the words of one who has been privileged to see a pre-view, is "ten times funnier than the funniest picture I have ever been privileged to see!"

"Jack's the Boy" will also be shown at Carstairs on Monday and Tuesday March 6th and 7th.

Westcott Notes.

The Westcott W.I. met for its February meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Robertson, with 16 members and several visitors present. The program being discussed included a very capable talk by Mrs. G. N. Robertson.

The meeting opened with "O, Canada," followed by the topic for the afternoon, "Child Welfare," from Mrs. Shoultze, who gave a report on the oratorial contest held at the Jackson school. Mrs. Ray gave a paper on "Canadianization," the discussion of which aroused much interest. A social evening was planned for March 4th at the home of Mrs. Owens. Material was distributed among the members to make up for the fall bazaar, and it was decided to make another committee. A musical selection was rendered by Mrs. J. Hughes. A new member, Mrs. W. Remie, was enrolled. The program closed with "God Save The King."

It was noticed that it was much enjoyed by the men. The March meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. C. E. Taggle.
